

Know Your Karmic Strengths and Areas for Improvement:
A Step in Becoming Stronger and More Independent www.21BanyanTree.com

Dear ABCD,

This is your confidential Karmic Energy Strength and Weaknesses Report based on an assessment of your birth horoscope.

The ancient Indian system, Jyotish, has been used for millennia to assess the impact of celestial energies on individuals, based on the cosmology of the Vedas. This reading uses the Systems Approach to Jyotish, as propounded by Professor V.K. Choudhry¹. A copy of your birth chart is included as part of this report.

Your ascendant is Gemini. You have the potential to undertake courageous initiatives in collaboration with younger friends and colleagues. What it will take to realize this potential is assessed here.

Most people who receive this report use it as one of many considerations to understand themselves in the context of their material and spiritual quests. This Jyotish reading provides insight into the celestial energies that support you in these quests. It particularly identifies the energies that may need to be further strengthened.

One of the unique differentiators of Jyotish reading is that it gives you specific time ranges when certain energies are dominant in your life. I have provided you with a matrix showing which energies will dominate during specific periods within the five years.

For most, this framework of celestial energies is a new and different way to see their life. The vocabulary, too, is new and different. It is not mainstream. People who have me as a personal life coach begin to see that this framing gives them a very strong, distinct advantage. It sets them apart in how they can better navigate a hyper-competitive world. You may wish to read this report multiple times and contemplate on it.

For many, the next step is an online skype coaching session, during which I walk you through this report and familiarize you with how best you can begin using it for your benefit.

I look forward to hearing from you.

With best wishes,

Jayant (Jay) Kalawar

ABCD Birth Chart..... 12

Your Primary Motivating Drivers

You were born with a certain configuration of celestial karmic energies. As you become more aware of the role these karmic energies play in your life, your sense of well-being and balance will improve. I will list and describe these, further on, in the report.

From my assessment of your Karmic birth chart, you are most motivated to achieve the following:

1. Earning an income and ensuring family well-being.
2. Courageously taking up new initiatives in collaboration with younger siblings and friends in your community.
3. Acquiring and maintaining home and building a portfolio of financial assets.
4. Launching and sustaining creative initiatives which you act out with affectionate and nurturing energies.
5. Entering into and sustaining one-on-one significant personal and business relationships.
6. Acting on guidance from respected teachers and mentors, pursuing advanced study, traveling to distant locations.
7. Entering into positive mentoring relationships with older siblings (if any) and / or older friends and advisors. These mentoring relationships will have the potential to give you success in life in general and also passive income (e.g. from investments and inheritances).

Your Secondary Motivating Drivers

You also have five secondary motivating drivers in your life which work in the background to support your well-being. These drivers are not high priority for you. They do not motivate you as much, but play an important part in your overall success. These, however, require your continued attention to ensure your personal growth:

1. Projecting your own image to the world around you. This driver probably does not seem as important to you as earning a living but the image you project to the social and business world, however, impacts how much you earn. And, how hard you will have to work to earn it.
2. Ensuring continual balance and awareness of your environment to protect against disputes and disturbances in work, health and legal matters.
3. Entering and sustaining partnerships with personal and business relations. This is one step removed from entering into and sustaining personal and business relationships. Once you are successful in your personal and business relationships, you need a different kind of energy to enter into and sustain win-win partnerships.
4. Having a viable career and social status. While your highest priority may be to earn a living and gain knowledge, ensuring at least a moderately strong career and social status can only help enable your earning power. So having a process in place towards career growth and consciously ensure certain social status (which goes with projecting your image to the world around you) is an area to keep in mind, as part of your personal growth.
5. Energizing your inner world through introspection and contemplation. The areas covered so far deal with your capabilities to deal with the outside world around you. It is, however, key that you energize your inner world through introspection and contemplation. In turn, this may lead you to practice processes to deepen and sustain high inner energy levels, which then translate into higher capacity for external action. Your birth chart shows comparatively lower priority given to this area of activity, based on your karmic experiences in prior births. Now may be a great time to reverse this situation, if you have not already done so.

Summary of Your Karmic Strengths and Areas of Improvement

Overall you have two strong set of energies working for you: Moon and Mars. Sun and Saturn energies are moderately strong. Also, you have no negative energies working through you.

Your Karmic Strengths

Your Moon energy is already strong and channeled to you especially through your mother in particular, and through your family in general. To sustain the strong Moon energy and make it even stronger, do inner work to invoke the (Feminine Divine) Devi's energy to channel directly through you. It supports and enables you to flourish in your career and, hence, give you a relatively respected social status.

Your Mars energy channels strongly through you. This helps you enter into and sustain successful partnerships. However, to achieve this, you need to strengthen the prerequisite: ability to enter and maintain one-on-one significant relationships. This points to the need to strengthen your Jupiter energy, as described below.

Sun energy is moderately strong. This energy manifests as support from your father and other paternal figures in your life. Inner work will help to energize the Sun energy in you, to amplify your will power and mental stamina, required to achieve the rewards you are seeking.

Saturn energy is moderately strong for you. It is one of the drivers in your personal and business partnerships, which could lead to ease of life, if managed well. However, to succeed in entering into and sustaining business partnerships, you need to strengthen your Jupiter energy that supports your ability to enter into one-on-one relationships, which is a pre-requisite for sustained partnerships.

Your Karmic Areas of Improvement

You have some weak energies channeling through you that need work, if you are to achieve and realize your full potential levels in your life time:

- 1. Energize your communication and analytical capabilities channeled by Mercury energy, which is relatively weak: Coaching in public speaking and debating may help in communications. Also (and only as an example), slow but steady practice with increasingly complex Excel spread sheet analysis may help in building analytical capability. In any case, keep in mind your analytical strength relative to what may be demanded by your job, before making commitments.
- 2. Your Venus energy is channeled as a transformative energy. It may enable you to explore mysterious spiritual experiences. Transformation also means giving up old ways of doing things, as you explore new ways. Your Venus energy, being quite weak, may trigger these transformations but not enable you to complete or sustain them, leading to a sense of a roller coaster ride in your life. This is major energy area of improvement for you. Focused inner work for Venus energy, the energy of the Devi manifested in the material world, will help.
- 3. The weakness of Jupiter energy impacts your ability to initiate and sustain collaborative projects. It also results in confusions in the process of initiating and sustaining significant one on one personal as well as business relationships. This is a relatively weak area for you, requiring substantial strengthening, through inner work and relationship coaching.

The Celestial Energy Areas that will Drive Your Life in the Next Five Years

At this stage, most people ask: when will the karmic energy areas shift and how they will impact me? Here is a short answer for the next 5 plus years:

Your Karmic Celestial Energy Areas	Time Periods Most Active in the Next 5 Years of Your Life	Are they Strong or Do You Need Working on to Make them Stronger?
Venus	December 2016 to April 2019	On a scale of -5 to +5, Venus energy is +1.5. It is weak.
Sun	April 2019 – April 2020	On a scale of -5 to +5, Sun energy is +4.0. It is moderately strong.
Moon	April 2020 – December 2021	On a scale of -5 to +5, Moon energy is +5.0. It is strong.
Mars	December 2021-February 2023	On a scale of -5 to +5, Mars energy in +5.0. It is strong.

You will have noticed that I have indicated that the Venus energy, that is manifesting in your life currently (and up to April 2019), is weak. It is giving you challenges, at present, in your material and spiritual quests.

Now that you know the timing of the manifestation of your karmic celestial energies in your life over the next 5 years, the next section will describe the specific areas of your life where each of these karmic celestial energies will manifest.

In the detailed analysis below, you will need to pay particular attention to what I say about Venus energy that is manifesting in your life now, as I write this report in November 2016.

Next Steps

Dear ABCD, with this report you are now beginning to become aware of your karmic strengths and karmic areas of improvement. You also now have an indication of when you may expect to have each of these energies manifest in the next five years.

As I said at the beginning, for most, this framework and vocabulary of celestial energies is a new and different way of seeing their life. However, using this framing gives my clients a very strong, distinctive advantage in navigating a hyper-competitive world.

To become more familiar with the report and to understand how best you can use it to your benefit, I recommend scheduling a one hour personal skype based contemplative-meditative coaching session.

Once my clients become more conversant and comfortable with this Jyotish framework, they either order my powerful Karmic Life Map report, or request additional contemplative-meditative one on one skype based life coaching session. Individuals I work with become stronger and more independent to pursue their material and spiritual quests, in an ethical and balanced way.

I look forward to hearing from you soon. Feel free to write me at 21BanyanTree@gmail.com.

Best wishes,
